

Kashaul Sheth

Kashaul Sheth has 27 years of experience building tech companies and is an A.I. Contrarian and leading expert on applications of A.I. relating to the future of Money and the Future of Work. Kashaul is currently creating a bridge between computer science and neuroscience by building a new generation of models to replicate human brain design. He is an Angel Investor and Mentor to multiple successful startups and a speaker at global conferences.